Post Graduate Center and Pre-Law Institute

The Pre-Law Institute (PLI) prepares students to successfully enter law school and the legal profession by providing academic support and professional development initiatives. Through PLI programs, John Jay students can explore different legal career paths, prepare for the LSAT and the rigors of law school, network with law schools and lawyers, and apply for law school scholarship opportunities.

PLI exemplifies the best of John Jay's mission for educating for justice and its goal of providing historically underrepresented Latinx, Black and low-income students the support they need to graduate and thrive thereafter. John Jay is the fourth largest source of Black applicants to law school and the 12th largest for Latinx applicants.
